Zoomark's mission? Pet Vision

From specifically formulated foods to life-enhancing accessories, wellness products and high-tech equipment, the industry's most pioneering, next-generation products and services are showcased in the Pet Vision area, the heart and soul of Zoomark.

The area devoted to the latest innovations explores market trends and future directions, offering insights that will help industry professionals face the market more confidently and more competently, and which provide fresh inspiration for business activities.

2.0 > 3.0 > 4.0. What's next? Next 5.0!

Next 5.0 is the area devoted to innovation and new technology. A hub for young companies entering the pet market for the first time, producers of high-tech solutions, business incubators and accelerators from all over the world, which are developing new ways of interpreting and responding to market stimuli.

Tech is high at Zoomark

Tech is the space reserved for all the companies involved in the supply chain: suppliers of raw materials and semi-finished products, machinery, packaging, industry services and distribution. It completes what's on offer and multiplies business opportunities for the industry.

The shapes of water at Aqua Project

Aqua Project is the area dedicated to the aquarium and terrarium industry, and the companies themselves are actively involved in creating a special display area and developing activities for industry professionals: seminars, meetings and showcases.

A hub for meeting and growth

Knowledge, dialogue and insight are the driving forces of commerce and the factors that turn a trade show into a powerful meeting place where to discover new ideas, be inspired and catch new opportunities.

Zoomark's packed programme of lectures and seminars delivers a vast array of opportunities in terms of continuing education and gaining knowledge on current issues, the market, distribution, marketing and communication strategies and professional development.

The round-table discussions, the events hosted on the stands and the debates are a chance to meet new business partners and tap into new ideas.

Much more than just a show

Zoomark is much more than a product showcase. It's somewhere to meet clients and friends, somewhere new alliances can be made and new partners can be encountered, in a welcoming, engaging environment. It's also a chance to explore the city of Bologna and the surrounding area, experience its cultural attractions, and enjoy its world-class cuisine.
